Pilot Phase II	Sarah Wright	Restaurants required to identify menu items, train staff, show eatsmart in windows. Some of the restaurants in Phase I will be dropped.
Mahoney	Carla Heizenga	4 entrees on the regular menu will be able to be made to eatsmart standard. Currently Brenda Lay is reviewing the recipes. Next year they should have new location with whole menu eatsmart. Kids menu is currently being modified as well.
Fox Valley Tech	Sarah Wright	25 recipes have been submitted to Brenda Lay for review! Will teach students to be health conscious.
Culinary Club	Sarah Wright	Informal Group of about 15 people. Seemed excited to embrace the future and eatsmart.
Flatbreads	Carla	Flatbread's waitress did not present her with an eatsmart menu when requested on Friday. Instead was told they no longer participated.

E. Cook School Gardens	Sarah	Break ground this Saturday with Growing Oshkosh. Growing Oshkosh has agreed to work on the continued maintenance of the gardens. Each grade has a garden this summer the teachers will have a day to be educated about gardens and different possible lessons for each grade. Volunteer schedule for summer maintenance of gardens will be taken. If family helps maybe can bring some of the produce home for that week?
Eatsmart	Sarah	Restaurants who participate in eatsmart can be found via online page.
Food of Month	Sarah	Oshkosh will be having the last one this month. The vegetable is brocollini. $1.00 off coupon can be found online. Next year we will have the Harvest of the Month, focus will be on local produce-Health Department will check farm to make sure they are following correct procedures. Next year Carla wants to have the same vegetable as the other Oshkosh schools.
Oshkosh North	-	Have fish tank. Students are very excited and involved.
Local Produce to Schools		Right now Farm A delivers to School A-not ideal for the future. Want more of a central hub. This would be for someone like a nonprofit to take charge of. Tom___ has availability for cold storage in the area but charges.
