How to Use this Manual

This manual was designed to be used as a resource for a wide audience. It can be read cover to cover or simply used as a resource for information on a specific topic such as Social Security or Integrated Employment. Because of the varied audience and intended use of this manual, keeping the following points in mind will help add clarity as you use the manual:

- Because of the detailed nature of the material, students will likely benefit from the assistance of a parent/guardian or teacher /school staff as they review the material.
- “Self Checks” are scattered throughout the manual and are intended to serve as a tool to measure or provide feedback on the reader’s understanding of the material. Knowing the answers to these key questions will help ensure that the reader has a firm grasp on the material.
- Since the manual can be used as a reference on specific topics, some material is repeated in different sections of the manual.

Overview

Completing high school is a very important transition time for all students. This is especially true for students with disabilities as they move into adult life.

What options do students have after high school? What supports are available? How do students plan for employment, independent living, and postsecondary education and training? These questions are part of the transition planning process.

This resource guide is designed to provide information for students with disabilities and their family* and teachers, as they prepare for adult life. The following areas are covered in this manual:

*Family is defined as one or more people close to the young adult or student who has an interest in their future and may include biological/foster parents, guardians, grandparents, uncles, aunts, siblings, and spouses.

Transition Planning

Good Transition Planning Includes a Role for Everyone!

Transition Services

Individual Education services and activities that support students with disabilities in reaching their postsecondary goals regarding education, training, employment, and independent living.

Student Role

- Identify my interests, talents, and passions to pursue after leaving high school.
- Actively participate in the Individualized Education Plan (IEP) process and identify my employment and independent living goals.
- Work towards achieving my goals.
- Identify supports (people and resources) that can help me achieve my goals.
- Stay in school.
- Develop self-determination and self-advocacy skills*.

Parent/Family Role

- Help my son/daughter identify his/her interests, talents, and passions.
- Work with the IEP team to address transition related goals (e.g., employment, independent living).
- Work with my son/daughter to complete activities toward achieving their post school goals.
- Collaborate and communicate with identified support systems (e.g., school, adult services).
- Support my son/daughter in advocating for him/herself*.

Teacher Role

- Develop an understanding of the student's abilities, interests, and passions.
- Develop and implement transition plan with student and family.
- Work with student and family to complete activities toward achieving post school goals.
- Collaborate and communicate with identified support systems (e.g., families, school, adult services).
- Support the student in advocating for him/herself*.

*Why Self-Determination and Self-Advocacy?

- To live life as you choose in accordance with your interests, needs, and abilities.

What is Self-Determination?

- Exercising the right to make choices and direct your own life.
- Promoting self-determination includes choice making, decision making, and problem solving.

What is Self-Advocacy?

- Knowing and standing up for your rights.
- Promoting self-advocacy, includes knowing your strengths, interests, weaknesses, and understanding your disability and the support you need.

What's So Important About Turning 18?

In Wisconsin, you are considered an adult after turning 18 except for criminal law purposes (age 17) and for purchasing alcohol (age 21).

What does it mean to be an adult?

- You have certain new rights which are associated with being completely independent.
- You also have certain new responsibilities and are held personally accountable for your actions.

What are some of your rights?

- Vote in national, state, and local elections;
- Create a will;
- Marry without the consent of your parents or guardian;
- Obtain medical treatment without your parents' permission;
- Apply for credit;
- Serve in the armed forces;
- Support yourself because your parents are no longer required to support you; and
- Sign contracts and other legal documents.

Action Steps to Take at 18

- Males - Selective Service Registration
 - If appropriate, obtain adult disability determination through Social Security Administration, ph. 800-772-1213, and apply for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Medical Assistance (MA)
 - At 17 years & 6 months, call to get information directly from your local Aging and Disability Resource Center (ADRC)
- ADRC of _____ Ph. _____

Guardianship: What's It All About?

Did you know?

- When students turn 18, parents no longer automatically have legal control over their son/daughter's affairs regardless of the nature or severity of their disability.
- Acquiring guardianship is a legal process that may take several months and involves lawyers, judges, healthcare providers, and the court system.
- Without guardianship, parents cannot make medical or financial decisions for children 18 or older.

Caution: Wisconsin law generally encourages that protective supports, including guardianship, be the least restrictive necessary to provide the required protection. Many people with disabilities may not need a guardian. The need for a guardian is established by assessing a person's ability to understand the decisions he or she needs to make.

Guardianship is the legal power to care for another person and manage his or her affairs.

There are two basic kinds of guardians

- Guardian of the estate - controls finances
- Guardian of the person - arranges for personal needs such as food, shelter, social services, or medical care
- If necessary, a court may appoint the same person for both kinds of guardianship or the responsibilities may be divided.

A judge makes the determination that guardianship is necessary, indicating that the person is incompetent. It is important to note that an individual is not considered incompetent simply because they have a physical or developmental disability or make what others may consider poor decisions. Individuals are not considered incompetent even if they do not fully understand instructions. Extra effort may be needed to explain something in a way that the individual understands.

Parents should consider the issue of guardianship and related alternatives at least six months prior to their son or daughter's 18th birthday.

Guardianship: What's It All About?

Things to think about when considering guardianship:

- It's helpful to breakdown an individual's need for support and decision making ability into functional areas such as medical care, safety, financial, and personal needs.
- Evaluate the decisions that need to be made in these areas.
- Is the individual able to understand the information related to these areas and then make decisions?
- Is there support in the form of an advocate to help the individual make these decisions and protect them from exploitation?
- Remember, there are less restrictive forms of guardianship and alternatives to guardianship that enable the individual to retain the most control over their life.

Alternatives to guardianship include:

1. Health Care Power of Attorney – allows an individual to make healthcare decisions for another person.
2. Conservatorship - If the person is competent to understand his or her action, then he or she can request the court to appoint a conservator who has exactly the same powers and responsibilities as a guardian of the estate. Conservatorship is different from guardianship in that there is no finding of incompetence and the person can ask the court to end the conservatorship at any time.
3. Representative Payee - A representative payee is an individual or organization appointed by the Social Security Administration (SSA) to receive Social Security and/or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits for someone who cannot manage or direct someone else to manage his or her money. The main responsibilities of a payee are to use the benefits to pay for the current and foreseeable needs of the beneficiary and properly save any benefits not needed to meet current needs. A payee must also keep records of expenses. When SSA requests a report, a payee must provide an accounting to SSA of how benefits were used or saved. In order to be a payee a person or organization must apply for and be appointed by SSA.
4. Dual Signature Accounts - These accounts allow the person to make out his or her own checks, but requires the individual to get another person's signature before the checks can be used. Both individuals are required to sign a check before it will be paid.

Understanding Adult Service Systems

Now that I'm out of high school, how do services change?

Entitlement	Eligibility
High School	Adult Service Systems
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Special Education Services are free	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Adult services are based on eligibility and vary by agency
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Services based on the Individualized Education Plan (IEP) initiated by the school district	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Services are based on the Individualized Service Plan (ISP) and/or Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE) which are developed with the adult consumer
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Progress toward IEP goal is monitored and communicated to parents and students	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Progress toward goals is monitored by the consumer and requires self-advocacy
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Required by the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA)	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Required by Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA)

What does this mean for me?

- I need to be determined eligible for supports and work with a team to develop an individual plan.
- I can find my own adult service providers and determine if their services are right for me.
- This means I have to understand adult rights and responsibilities.
- I need to use my self-advocacy and self-determination skills.

Defining Disability

Why is this important?

Definitions used by the world of adult services are very specific and different from those that are used by educators in the high school setting. An understanding of these definitions is helpful when navigating the adult system. The following definitions are taken from Wisconsin Statutes:

Physical Disability

“...means a physical condition, including an anatomical loss or musculoskeletal, neurological, respiratory or cardiovascular impairment, which results from injury, disease or congenital disorder and which significantly interferes with or significantly limits at least one major life activity of a person”

(WI Statutes 15.197(4)(a) 2).

Major Life Activity means any of the following:

- A. Self-care
- B. Performance of manual tasks unrelated to gainful employment
- C. Walking
- D. Receptive and expressive language
- E. Breathing
- F. Working
- G. Participating in educational programs
- H. Mobility, other than walking
- I. Capacity for independent living

(WI Statutes 15.197(4)(a)1).

Developmental Disability

“...means a disability attributable to brain injury, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, autism, Prader-Willi syndrome, intellectual disability, or another neurological condition closely related to an intellectual disability or requiring treatment similar to that required for individuals with an intellectual disability, which has continued or can be expected to continue indefinitely and constitutes a substantial handicap to the afflicted individual.

"Developmental disability" does not include dementia that is primarily caused by degenerative brain disorder.”

(WI Statutes 51.01(5)(a))

"I am more than my disability!"

What is Publicly Funded Long Term Care?

Long Term Care (LTC) is any service or support that a person may need as a result of a disability that limits the ability to do the things that people need to do throughout the course of the day. This includes bathing, getting dressed, making meals, going to work and paying bills.

Long Term Care Target Groups:

- Adults with physical disabilities;
- Adults with developmental disabilities;
- Adults with mental health or substance abuse problems if they are also in one of the above target groups;
- Adults who meet functional and financial eligibility for Medicaid Assistance (MA).

Eligibility:

- Financial
 - ◆ Based on applicant's income.
 - ◆ Generally individuals eligible for Medicaid will be financially eligible for publicly funded LTC.
- Functional Screen - <http://dhs.wisconsin.gov/LTCare/FunctionalScreen/>
 - ◆ Inventory of needs or list of activities that people need to perform, or have performed for them, in the course of everyday life.
 - ◆ Gathers information about whether a person needs help, and how much help they need, in performing the activities of everyday life.

Options/Enrollment Counseling

- Eligible individuals receive counseling about the different options under publicly funded LTC (pg. 19).

Publicly Funded LTC Services May Include But are Not Limited To the Following*
Adaptive Aids	Adult Day Care
Durable Medical Equipment	Daily Living Skills Training
Financial Management Services	Home Delivered Meals
Personal Emergency Response System Services	Prevocational Services
Respite Care	Skilled Nursing Services
Specialized Medical Equipment and Supplies	Supported Employment
Supportive Home Care	Transportation

*Note: LTC Services can be used to support a flexible approach to employment and other daily activities. This allows for the selection of a blend of activities between employment support and support for other activities such as daily living skills training.

Contact your local Aging and Disability Resource Center (ADRC) to determine eligibility and, if appropriate, apply for publicly funded long term care services.

ADRC of

Publicly Funded Long Term Care Options

This program provides assistance with coordination of LTC services and uses personal Medicare or Medicaid card to pay doctor and prescription drugs.

(Allows for self directed supports).

Develop a self directed plan for services and supports within an individual budget. Self direct all LTC Services including recruiting, hiring, and scheduling or purchasing services from a provider.

Medicaid (Title 19) "Forward" Card

Use your Medicaid (Title 19) "Forward" Card for doctor's visits and other health services.

If you are eligible, then you will be able to select a Managed Care Organization or IRIS to deliver services.

Independent Living

What Are Some Options?
Support Services in the Home	Individual continues to live at home (own home or family member's home) and receives support services.
Supervised/Supported Apartments	Onsite staff supervision and support available from a few hours a day to 24 hours a day. This support may include personal care assistance, making meals, assistance in budgeting, help with connecting to community leisure activities, or other areas needing attention.
Community Based Residential Facility (Group Home)	A place where five or more unrelated people live together in a community setting. Services provided include room and board, supervision, support services, and may include up to three hours of nursing care per week.
Adult Family Care Homes	A place where adults who are not related to the operator reside and receive care, treatment, or services that are above the level of room and board and that may include up to seven hours per week of nursing care per resident. This applies to three or four bed homes regulated by the state. One and two bed homes are certified by the county or Managed Care Organizations.

*Regardless of the nature of your disability, the only requirement to apply for DVR services is the desire to work. You don't have to know what type of work you want.

Employment First: Strategies and Options

Key Definitions

- Employment - regular employment in the workforce on the payroll of a company (unless self employed) at the minimum or prevailing wages with commensurate benefits.
- Integration - interaction with co-workers without disabilities and customers is assured.

Employment First

Although no universal definition of “employment first” exists; the policies, practices, and strategies of this initiative focus on integrated, community-based employment as the preferred outcome for individuals with disabilities.

Employment First initiatives highlight the need to raise expectations and implement better practices around employment for individuals with disabilities. To that end, many state initiatives have taken additional steps to define what “employment” means to ensure the goal of integrated jobs in the workforce at competitive wages and benefits.

Employment first initiatives center on holding individuals with disabilities to the same employment standards, responsibilities, and sets of expectations as any working-age adult.

Employment First is about raising expectations!

Funding Resource

Social Security Administration - has work incentives such as Plan for Achieving Self Support and Ticket to Work that can be used to assist individuals in obtaining and maintaining employment.

Service Resources

Adult Service Providers - agencies run by the government or private individuals that assist individuals with disabilities with employment, housing, recreation, and other skills needed to live as independently as possible.

Job Centers - part of the state Department of Workforce Development which provides assistance to employers and job seekers to strengthen Wisconsin's workforce.

Funding and Service Resources

Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR)- state agency that provides employment and counseling services to individuals with disabilities; provides or arranges services to assist individuals in obtaining and maintaining employment

Publicly Funded Long Term Care - long term supports funded through state programs such as Family Care, Partnership and IRIS for individuals with disabilities which may assist with supported employment and vocational futures planning.

Special considerations when selecting postsecondary education and training options:

- Know why you want to go to college.
- Know what your career goals are.
- Begin planning as early as 9th grade.
- Understand your disability and how to be a self-advocate.
- Understand your unique academic needs associated with your disability and what type of academic support is offered by the college.
- Understand the application process and what the entrance requirements are for a student with a documented disability.
- Learn the expectations for students who need access to student support services.
- Develop good study habits, self-discipline, and time management skills.

Social Security: A Few Things You Should Know

The Social Security Administration (SSA) administers benefits paid through Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI).

Disability Determination is a finding made by disability examiners and medical professionals that an individual has an illness, injury, or condition that meets the legal definition of disability in the Social Security Act. This may take 60-120 days or longer. Contact SSA at age 18 even if this determination process occurred as a child.

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) makes cash assistance payments and medical benefits (Medicaid) available to persons with a disability who have limited income and resources.

Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) makes cash assistance payments and medical benefits (Medicare) available based upon an individual's prior work or a family member's prior work contributions to the SSA Trust Fund.

Social Security Employment Supports

Employment supports help you to enter, re-enter, or stay in the workforce by protecting your eligibility for cash payments and/or health care as you move from dependency to independence.

“Ticket to Work”

The Ticket to Work Program is an innovative program for individuals with disabilities who want to work and participate in planning their employment. A Ticket increases your available choices when obtaining employment services, vocational rehabilitation services, and other support services you may need to get or keep a job. It is a free and voluntary service.

Plan to Achieve Self-Support (PASS)

To be eligible you must receive SSI (or SSDI and be eligible for SSI) and want to set aside money to pursue an employment goal.

SSDI Employment Supports

The SSDI employment supports provide help over a long period of time to allow you to test your ability to work, or to continue working, and gradually become self-supporting and independent.

SSI Employment Supports

The SSI employment supports offer ways for you to continue receiving your SSI checks and/or Medicaid coverage while you work. Some of these provisions can increase your net income to help cover special expenses.

Student Earned Income Exclusion

Under age 22 and regularly attending school (i.e. high school or college), SSI will exclude up to $1700/month or up to $6840/year of earned income when calculating your SSI payment amount.

For more information, contact Social Security offices at Ph. (800) 772-1213.

Medical Assistance: A Few Things You Should Know

Medical Assistance (MA) is also known as Medicaid, Title XIX (19), and “Forward” Card.

Medical Assistance provides coverage for the cost of services such as:

- Doctor services;
- Hospital stays;
- Prescriptions;
- Other medical needs;
- Transportation; and
- Personal care assistants.

U.S. citizens or legal immigrants may qualify for Medicaid if they meet the financial eligibility requirements and are in one of the following categories:

- Age 65 or older;
- Blind or disabled;
- Under age 19; or
- Pregnant.

Under certain circumstances, it is possible to continue receiving Medical Assistance while working. Contact Social Security for specific details and qualifications.

If you currently receive Medical Assistance or SSI (under 18 child’s benefit), you will need to contact Social Security ph. 800-772-1213 at age 18 to reapply for Medical Assistance or SSI as an adult.

Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR)

The role of DVR is to:

- Provide employment services and counseling to people with disabilities;
- Provide or arrange for services to enable an individual to go to work; and
- Provide training and technical assistance to employers regarding disability employment issues.

Two separate determinations must be made before an individual with a disability receives DVR services:

- Eligibility determination; and
- Placement on the order of selection waiting list.

To be eligible for DVR:*

- The individual has a physical and/or mental disability.
- The disability makes it difficult for the person to obtain, retain, and/or advance in employment.
- The individual requires DVR assistance to achieve an appropriate employment goal.

Order of Selection*

Because DVR may not have sufficient resources to provide services to everyone who is eligible, the Rehabilitation Act requires that people with the most significant disabilities be served first. This is the reason for the second determination noted above, placement on the order of selection waiting list. Once an individual has met the test for the eligibility determination, DVR must assess how significantly disabled the individual is. DVR has three categories of severity:

- Most significantly disabled (category 1)
- Significantly disabled (category 2) - an SSDI beneficiary or SSI recipient is automatically considered to be, at least, an individual with a significant disability
- Disabled (category 3)
